First Program Service Accomplishments Description

Description

Harris County jails. Isaiah House and Providence House are CNC's two non-contract residential facilities, and are approved by the TDCJ and the Parole Department. Our facilities have a total combined capacity to serve 30 residents, with more space opening up soon. Over the last two years the organization has undergone many changes, including a name change to Christian New Creation, Inc beginning in January 2018, a new director and staff, and additional board members. In addition, we are modernizing our processes and adding additional programs and enhancements to better develop and educate our residents. The current recidivism rate in the State of Texas if 62%, meaning 62% of everyone paroled or released from TDCJ prisons will return to prison within 3 years of getting, many progressing on to greater crimes. The recidivism rate for CNC however, is consistently less than 5%. To be a resident of either Isaiah House or Providence House, an ex-offender must connect with a local Christian faith community of their choice, establish a relationship with a mentor, and find employment. CNC facilitates these requirements by helping to connect the residents to local churches/parishes in the community and to our volunteer mentors. CNC also partners with local employers who value providing the residents with the chance to succeed outside of prison. Program Services include long-term mentoring, educational assistance, financial support, housing, employment facilitation and spiritual counseling for 41 ex-inmates from July 1, 2017 - Dec 31, 2017. During the period from July 1, 2007 to Dec 31, 2017, we have served over 530 men. Over the last 10 years, 268 residents have stayed in our program 90 days or longer. Of these residents, only 16 lost their parole and returned to prison. Out of the current 27 residents, 20 are employed.
